

Grants Awarded Report - Arts and Culture COVID-19 Interruption Support

Arts and Culture COVID-19 Interruption Support provided urgent support to Northern Territory artists and arts workers, sole traders and organisations that have been directly impacted by the COVID-19 Chief Health Officer directed restrictions and lockdowns.

Eligible individuals, groups and organisations who experience a loss of income due to activities that were cancelled because of the lockdown were encouraged to apply. Applicants ineligible for the Territory Business Lockdown Payment and earn less than $75,000 per annum were eligible to apply.

To date, $75,654 has been awarded through the Arts and Culture COVID-19 Interruption Support category across two rounds providing 99 reimbursements for artists and arts workers experiencing a loss of income due to the lockdown measures.

$75,654 awarded

- 165 applications were received and 99 awarded funding (60 per cent success).
- 66 applications were ineligible, withdrew or were unable to demonstrate a loss of income.

Key outcomes

- The highest percentage of support was dedicated to Artists (61 per cent), followed by Technical Production (16 per cent).
- The challenges identified for artists to demonstrate a loss of income includes:
 - artists and art workers could not show evidence of a loss of income due to the informal way in which artists are often engaged to work; and
 - bookings and/or cancellations were made via text message or phone call with no written confirmation of payment amounts or contract.
- Organisations earning over $75,000 were referred to the Territory Business Lockdown Payment Program.
